Program Calendars to Build Strong Units

Session 3 – Predictability Builds Trust

PROGRAM RHYTHM MAP

A tool for recognizing the patterns in your unit program

Purpose

The Program Rhythm Map helps identify the recurring patterns that shape the experience of Scouts, families, and leaders within your Pack, Troop, Crew, or Ship.

Quick Start

Use your Anchor Calendar from Session 2. Look across the year and ask:

- What experiences repeat?
- What do families learn to expect?
- What feels consistent?
- What feels accidental?
- What rhythm should we strengthen first?

Rhythm Categories

- Outdoor / Adventure Rhythm
How often do Scouts experience outdoor activity, adventure, or hands-on program?
- Advancement / Growth Rhythm
How does your program regularly help Scouts grow, learn, and progress?
- Service / Community Rhythm
How regularly does your unit serve others or connect with the community?
- Fundraising / Support
In addition to FOS and Popcorn, how does your unit support your unit's scouting activities?
- Recruiting / Invitation Rhythm
When and how does your unit invite new Scouts and families into the program?
- Family / Belonging Rhythm
How do families experience welcome, inclusion, recognition, and connection?
- Communication / Follow-Through Rhythm
How do families know what is coming and what they can count on?
- Youth Leadership Rhythm
How do young people regularly prepare, lead, reflect, and grow in responsibility?

Rhythm Questions

- Which rhythms are already strong?
- Which rhythms are present but inconsistent?
- Which rhythms are accidental or unclear?
- Which rhythm would most improve the family experience if strengthened?
- What is one rhythm we can strengthen before the next program year?

Important Reminder

You are not building the full program yet. You are identifying the patterns inside your program so they can become more visible, more intentional, and easier for families to recognize.

Predictability Builds Trust
People trust patterns they can recognize.

Kettle Country Unit Rhythm Map

A program is the full experience your unit provides over time. Rhythms are the patterns inside that experience. People trust patterns they can recognize.

Program Rhythm Assessment

Use the table below to identify rhythms already shaping your unit experience and choose one rhythm to strengthen first.
