Session 8 – What Strong Units Do Differently

OWNERSHIP PIPELINE ASSESSMENT

A 4-step diagnostic tool to identify points of pressure, build leadership continuity, and develop future unit stewards.

Purpose

Strong units do not wait for leadership vacancies to begin developing future leaders. They do it continuously. This assessment helps your Unit Key 3 and Executive Committee map core unit functions, evaluate single-point-of-pressure vulnerabilities, and establish clear shadowing partnerships so your unit's culture and program survive across volunteer generations.

Quick Start Guide

1. Gather your committee leadership (or complete as a Key 3 self-assessment).
2. Audit & Assess core operational areas honestly using the 4-column assessment grid below.
High Risk = 1 person holds all knowledge/execution;
Medium Risk = Shared but undocumented; Low Risk = Active steward + shadow in place.
3. Identify one immediate shadowing action to begin this month.

SECTION 1: UNIT FUNCTION & VULNERABILITY MATRIX

High Risk = 1 person holds all knowledge/execution; Medium Risk = Shared but undocumented;
Low Risk = Active steward + shadow in place.

Core Unit Responsibility	Current Primary Lead	Vulnerability/Risk Level	Prospective Shadow/Steward	Next Steps to Invite & Shadow
Program & Camping Logistics
Financial Management
Membership & Recruitment
Advancement & Records
Unit Communications
Fundraising/Popcorn
Den/Patrol Leadership

Section 2: PIPELINE REFLECTION

1. Where is our single greatest point of vulnerability today?

(If this specific volunteer had to step down tomorrow, which function would break down immediately?)

2. What operational knowledge is currently "locked in someone's head"?

(Passwords, spreadsheets, contact lists, vehicle papers, historical venue contacts, custom procedures)

3. Which current "helper" in our unit has potential to become a future steward?

(Look for parents who are reliable, care about the Scout experience, and communicate well)

Section 3: ACTION PLAN FOR THIS MONTH

Commit to ONE concrete action before your next Committee Meeting

- High-Priority Function to Protect:

- Current Lead Volunteer:

- Invited Apprentice / Shadow:

- The "Bring Someone Along" Opportunity:

(e.g., co-planning the next campout, co-auditing the treasury, running new family orientation together)

- Target Date for Invitation Conversation:
